Love Music Hate Violence Collective to perform at Slough Fest

A NEW new outdoor music festival organised by Love Music Hate Violence (LMHV) and Slough Bid is set to take place this weekend.

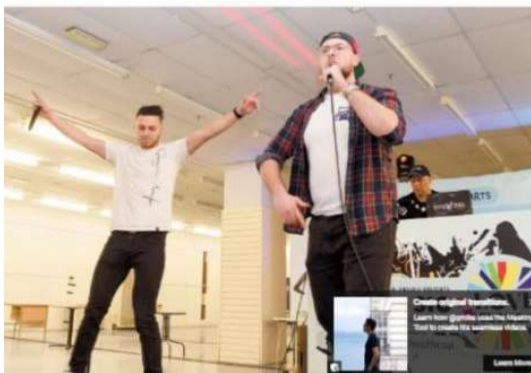

Slough Fest is the first of its kind, aimed at bringing the Slough community together and promoting local talent and businesses.

Starting at 11:30AM and running until 5:30PM on Saturday, October 15, the fest will take place at Town Square, outside Empire Cinema on Slough High Street.

Organiser Stephen Ambrose, also known as DJ and music producer Stevoss, says the event is aimed at "supporting local artists by giving them a platform".

Music festival to bring 'buzz' back to Slough

Slough will play host to an outdoor music festival this weekend to give musicians from the town a chance to showcase their talents.

Slough Fest will take place on Saturday, October 15 in the shopping complex from 11.30am to 5pm outside Empire cinema.

The event has been put together by Slough Bid and the Love Music Hate Violence (LMHV) group and will feature a six metre wide main performance stage adjacent to the cinema.

This will be the second event of its kind having taken place for the first time earlier this year in the town's shopping centre, which is also being eyed for a mass redevelopment.

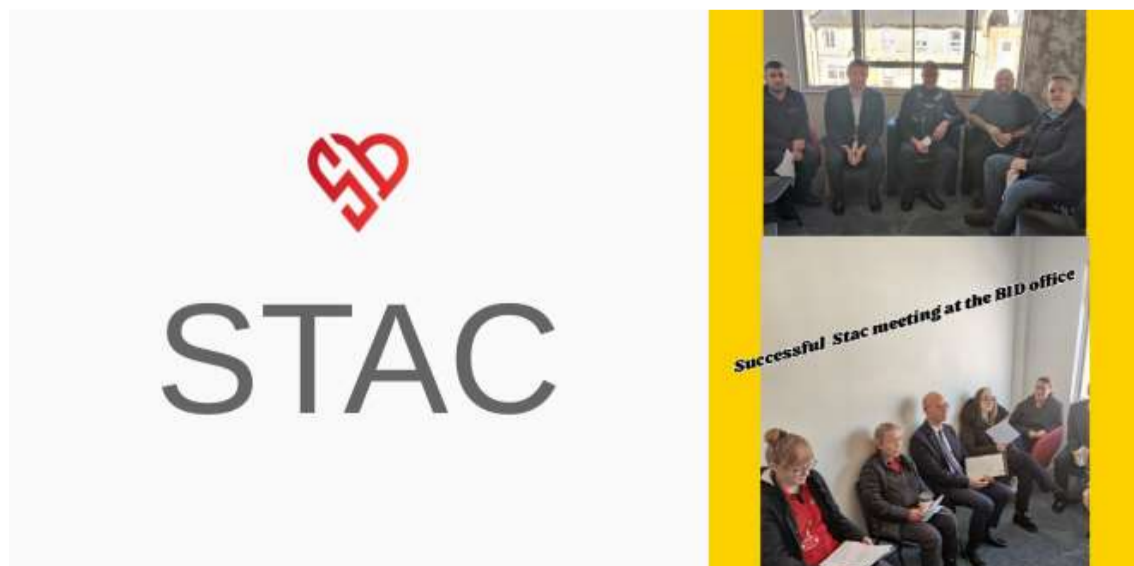

Clarissa Parker from Slough Bid said: "Slough BID were honoured to have worked with Love Music Hate Violence, bringing the wealth of Slough talent to the town centre in a wonderfully successful one day fest, we hope to host many more community events going forward."

THE MARINER'S SONG

Calling all adventurers! WOW! Slough and KinkyFish Theatre invite you to join writer-performer Rajan Sharma for The Mariner's Song, an award-winning narrative odyssey navigating ancient myth, family history, and life at sea.

Contemplating humanity's primal connection to oceans, rivers and seas – and our connection to one another – Sharma's intimate and compelling performance draws upon his visceral first-hand experience crewing on a Deep Sea Challenge, interweaving his grandfather's timeless wisdom and familiar characters from classical Greek mythology. Suitable for adults and children 12+, at the curve. 19th November 7:30 pm - 9:00 pm- The curve library.

Environment

One of the most effective, and long-term ways to mitigate against the energy price rises is to reduce energy consumed, through efficiency upgrades.

Such improvements include; LED lighting, solar PV, heating system upgrades, and insulation/glazing to improve heat retention. The main barrier to these may well be the initial cost. However, a Low Carbon Workspaces' grant from £1,000 - £5,000 can help fund a third of the cost of such projects at commercial premises.

These interventions are a great way to save money on energy bills, and reduce your carbon emissions; helping to achieve net zero goals. Grants cannot be paid retrospectively so it is essential to apply before undertaking work or appointing suppliers. Uber Launches Funds for Black-owned Restaurant Businesses

Black-owned restaurants across the UK are set to receive a cash boost as Uber Eats significantly expands its Black Business Fund in 2022.

In collaboration with Enterprise Nation and Be Inclusive Hospitality, the Uber Eats Black Business Fund will award a total of £250,000 to twenty-five small Black-owned businesses. At least half of the grants will go to small businesses outside of London.

Black-owned restaurants with fewer than five locations can now apply to the Uber Eats Black Business Fund with applications opening on October 14th and closing on November 25th. As well as funding to help grow their businesses, restaurants will receive special mentoring from Enterprise Nation. For more
